

WHAT'S YOUR NUMBER?

(License number that is...)

Florida has reached epidemic levels of unlicensed activity. Some of it is because of the economic environment and some of it because the offenders know the chances of getting caught are slim and if they do – so what!

The Air Conditioning Contractors of America Florida is starting a fact finding tour in eleven areas around the state. This town hall type social event is designed to gather complaints and solutions from contractors from every trade. You do not have to be a member of ACCA FL to attend – just licensed...

Once the information is gather, those contractors participating in the first round will be invited to a session in that area where building officials and representatives from the state and municipalities will be invited. At this meeting our goal is to share the information and demonstrate how enforcement can protect the consumers while generating revenues for the municipalities.

The locations will be announced in the ACCA FL e-news or at www.acca-fl.org as we get closer to the dates , but if you want more information, please contact Lisa Tamargo, ACCA FK Executive Manager at lisa@acca-fl.org or by calling (813) 210-4949.
